LOCATION

Queensway Trading Estate is prominently located on West Bank Street at the southern end of Waterloo Road.

The site is adjacent to the slipway onto Queensway crossing south over the River Mersey via the Jubilee Bridge. This leads into Runcorn and further afield into Cheshire.

Heading north from the property along Waterloo Road leads to the Queensway northbound and in turn Ashley Way and Watkinson Way which connects to junction 7 of the M62 and the wider northwest motorway network.

Speke Road is also accessed via travelling north on Waterloo Road from the property, this road travels west into Speke before leading into the suburbs of south Liverpool, eventually reaching Liverpool City Centre (less than 40 minute drive).

WIDNES TOWN CENTRE, including Widnes Shopping Park, is approximately 1.2 miles away providing access to several retail, food and beverage options a 3 minute drive away. Retailers include:

There are also several local shops and cafes within a 5 minute walk

GIVEN THE PROMINENCE AND VAST AMENITIES IN THE LOCAL VICINITY, THIS WOULD BE AN ATTRACTIVE LOCATION FOR VARIOUS USES AND BUSINESSES.

WIDNES TRAIN STATION is a 7-minute drive to the north of the property, providing services to Liverpool, Warrington, and beyond. There is free car parking onsite.

RUNCORN TRAIN STATION is just a 5 minute drive away, providing services direct from London to Liverpool.

DESCRIPTION

Queensway Trading Estate is a multi-let industrial estate. The buildings are positioned in the centre and eastern fringe of the estate with the perimeter used for parking and access.

There are five vehicular access points to the site, two on West Bank Road (east) and three from Dock Road (north). There is additionally a pedestrian access gate serving Unit 5 only. The property provides a mix of accommodation from brick-built to clad warehouse. There is an electricity sub-station on site.

UNIT 1 is located to the western edge of the estate; this building provides a mix of offices and workshop space. The building has an eaves height of 3.8m and apex height of 4.88m. The unit is of traditional industrial accommodation with a sliding shutter entrance and canopy for loading. Internally the unit benefits from toilets, office space, 3 phase electricity and strip lighting.

UNIT 2 is located in the middle of the site, vehicular access via two roller shutters or a pedestrian door to the front.

UNIT 3 is located on the eastern fringe of the site, identified by the pitched asbestos roof. This property has been split in half, providing vehicular access to the north, and roller shutter and pedestrian access to the south. The unit has an eaves height of 2.8m and apex height of 5.1m. The unit benefits from strip lighting, 3 phase electricity, entrance area, kitchen facilities and ancillary office space.

UNIT 4 is located in between Unit 2 and Unit 3. There is pedestrian access to the south and vehicle loading access via a sliding shutter to the west elevation. Unit 4 is a long narrow building identified via a flat felt roof.

UNIT 5 is a modern building, located in the northeastern corner of the site. There is pedestrian access as well as a roller shutter door.

QUEENSWAY HOUSE is also located on this estate and is undergoing a light refurbishment. The building benefits from the following specification: accessible entrance with ramp, perimeter radiator heating, strip lighting, kitchen facilities, reception area. There are upgrades being made to the electrics, lighting and WCs.
